DETAILED ACTION

The preliminary amendment received 11/21/2005 have been entered.

Election

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-34, in the reply filed on 12/28/2006 is acknowledged. Applicant did not provide any arguments for the traversal.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claims 35-71 are nonelected and thus are withdrawn from further consideration.

Only claims 1-34 are presented for examination on the merits.

Specification

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract must be a single paragraph. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b). A new abstract on a separate page is required to replace the current abstract, which is the first page of the WO document of the application.

3. All references to sequences in specification must include SEQ ID NOs, including Figs. No SEQ ID NOs are included in Fig. 18 and 19 of the drawings.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. Claim 1 is incomplete because it lacks a correlating step to accomplish the preamble of the claim.

All other claims depend directly or indirectly from rejected claims and are, therefore, also rejected under USC 112, second paragraph for the reasons set forth above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combination of Xiao et al. (Current Opinion in Neurobiology 2000;10:370-374) in view of Heitman et al. (Mol Cell Biol 1993;13(8):5010-5019).

Xiao teach a role for Homer complexes in signal transduction, synaptogenesis and receptor trafficking (abstract), a method to study Homer complexes by immunoprecipitation.

Xiao does not teach a role of a peptidylproline cis-trans isomerase (PPIase) play in Homer complexes.

Heitman teaches FK506, a PPIase inhibitor inhibits amino acid import into cell including prolines (abstract).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to develop a method to screen for modulating agents of a Homer signaling pathway because Xiao teaches the important role for Homer complexes in signal transduction, synaptogenesis and receptor trafficking (abstract). One would have been motivated to make the modification because Xiao et al. specifically described the interaction between Homer protein and its ligands and Heitman teaches a PPIase inhibitor that inhibits proline import, and would reasonably have expected success in view of Heitman's teaching because the presence of a PPIase inhibitor will ensure the binding specificity between Homer proteins and their ligands. The adjustment of particular conventional screening conditions (e.g., choice of source of Homer protein, choice of different forms of Homer protein ligands) is deemed merely a matter of judicious selection and routine optimization which is well within the purview of the skilled artisan having the cited reference before him/her.

From the teachings of the references, it is apparent that one of ordinary skill in the art would have had a reasonable expectation of success in producing the claimed invention. Therefore, the invention as a whole was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, as evidenced by the references, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.
